

DIEZ THE MURDERER.—It has not been forgotten that about a month ago, by our readers, we reported a case of murder committed by one Ferdinand Diez. The horrible circumstance was yesterday more fully brought to light. The body of the unfortunate woman has been discovered, and the evidence against the miserable murderer is established beyond question.

In a small back building in Magazine near Bartholomew street the body of a female, has been discovered mutilated in a most shocking manner. It was in this house that Diez was arrested, and that the heartless wretch after murdering his wife in Barrack street cut the body to pieces, hired his house in Magazine street, and in the night carried the corpse to his new residence, where he buried it beneath the floor. The body when discovered presented a most shocking spectacle. The legs had been cut off at the hips, and but little mortification had taken place. It may have been that the water in which the body lay, may have prevented the natural course of decomposition, for it was not buried but carelessly concealed beneath the floor, and the offensive smell which arose and offended the neighborhood led to the discovery. Diez is still in prison confined for examination. New Orleans Picayune of 5th. of March.

A HOUSE AND SIX CHILDREN BURNED.

The New York Gazette says: On Saturday about one o'clock, the house of Mr. John Astin, in the town of Yonkers, in Westchester county about one mile from the village of that name was burned down and six of his children perished in it by the flames. Mr. Astin with his wife and an infant, and some of the older children three daughters and a son, who lodged on the lower floor, escaped. The children lodged on the upper floor. The fire appears to have originated by accident after the family had all retired. Five of those who perished were between the ages of five and twelve years, and one was a young man grown, who, it would seem lost his life in attempting to rescue the children in the chamber. The four that escaped, besides the parents with the infant were also children—the family consisting of fourteen children in all, three of whom were not residing at home. We have these particulars from a gentleman residing in this city who during yesterday received his information direct from Yonkers. It is one of the most painful occurrences which for a long time has fallen to our lot to record.

A Murder in New Orleans.—A personal rencontre occurred at New Orleans on the 11th instant, between two individuals, which resulted in the death of one of them Mr. A. St. Clair. He received several wounds in his breast from his antagonist, inflicted by a knife. The person who stabbed him is a Mr. Raily, who keeps a boarding house on Girod street near the Levee.

Mills Destroyed.—The extensive flouring mills and cotton factory, belonging to Mr. A. Caldwell, at Lexington Ky. were destroyed by fire on Friday morning last. It was supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at $30,000: of which one third is covered by insurance. A similar calamity befell this establishment about a year ago; and it is recently, that the proprietor had finished rebuilding, and put the works in operation.

The trial of Wood, for the murder of his daughter, was called up yesterday before the court of Oyer and Terminer. The day was occupied to the hour of adjournment in a fruitless endeavor to empanel a jury. The store of Mrs. Wood is closed, and will probably be so during the trial. — Pennsylvania Inquirer.
